

Look Again

At their Compassion centers, sponsored kids learn the meaning of Easter. Their teachers tell them how Jesus loved them so much that He died for them and rose again three days later. Look at these pictures of kids celebrating Easter at their Compassion center in El Salvador. Can you find and circle 10 differences between the two pictures?

During the Easter season in El Salvador, artists make "rugs" in the streets out of colorful sawdust and/or flower petals!

These palm-leaf bundles are reminders of Jesus' arrival in Jerusalem, when people waved palm leaves to welcome him.

The cooks at Compassion centers work hard to feed sponsored kids. Pupusas are a favorite!

(Find the answers at explorer.compassion.com/look-again if you get stuck.)